Seven Thousand Die In Volcanic Eruptions Revolution Sweeps Germany Says Unconfirmed Report

SCORE OF VILLAGES WIPED OUT WHEN TREMORS CONTINUE

TERROR-STRICKEN NATIVES FLEE FROM DEVASTATED REGIONS.

Band of 800 Rebels Caught By Flood

Surface of Earth Around Volcanoes Completely Transformed by Action.

Mexico City, Jan. 10.—The death list in eastern Mexico since last Sunday from earthquake floods and volcanic eruptions was estimated at 7,000 today. Five thousand others are suffering from injuries.

Earthquake shocks continue around Jalapa, in the state of Vera Cruz.

Nearly a score of towns and villages have been wiped out of existence.

Near Teacelo a band of 800 rebels under Coloso Cepeda, which were marauding the countryside, were caught by flood and earthquake and destroyed.

The newly developed volcano at San Miguel mountain, in the state of Vera Cruz, is in violent eruption. At night time the flames light up the surrounding country for many miles. Vast quantities of smoke, boiling water and lava are pouring from the crater, accompanied by subterranean rumbles.

The volcano is only a few miles from Jalapa, former capital of Vera Cruz. Eighty per cent of the buildings in Jalapa have been destroyed.

The surface of the earth around the volcano has been completely transformed. Valleys now in the earth where mountains formerly stood. Among the towns and villages completely destroyed or badly damaged are Teocote, Causatlan, Acatlan, Coscomatepec, Simones, Chilchotla, Plata, Quixitlan, Ocotepala, Mazatlan, Sattillo, Lafragua, Atotonilco, Ayahuico and Barranca Grande. Forty others have been less seriously damaged.

It has been impossible to estimate the exact number of dead because many of the victims were completely buried and never will be recovered.

Strenuous efforts are being made to remove the debris but the work has been retarded by lack of workmen and the reluctance of laborers to enter the earthquake zone.

It is believed that many Pelicetas rebels have been killed by flood and earthquake as they were operating in the zone most seriously affected.

DENY CHARGES OF INEFFICIENCY AND NEGLECT IN OFFICE

Columbus, O., Jan. 10.—Denial of the charges of inefficiency, favoritism and neglect of duty were made by State Civil Service Commissioners George Ewing and Randolph W. Walton, who appeared before the joint legislative committee investigating salaries and compensations of state employees.

Senator Wm. M. Miller, chairman of the committee told J. E. Maynard, clerk of the house, when Maynard recommended increase of wages for the house clerical forces that "fifty percent of the employees at the general assembly could be fired without crippling the state." Maynard, however, contended that he needed more help.

FIRE DAMAGES POWER COMPANY

Newark, O., Jan. 10.—Fire in the Ohio Power company's plant, which generates current for this city, Mount Vernon, Lancaster and numerous other cities within radius of 50 miles, at 7 o'clock this morning, did several thousand dollars damage and caused a complete shutdown of the plant, which may last several days, which renders the cities without light and power. Stores and industries which depend on electricity for light are at a standstill or badly inconvenienced. Newspapers are unable to operate.

REPORT GOMPERS ILL

New York, Jan. 10.—Reports that Samuel Gompers president of the American Federation of Labor is ill, were circulated today after a trained nurse had been summoned to his apartment in the Continental hotel. His secretary explained that he was only "resting up."

PRESIDENT ENSNARED IN MESHES OF FATE MAY AGAIN BE CANDIDATE

Theory Suggested That He Could Withdraw in Favor of Vice President in Case of Election.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Woodrow Wilson, the man whom destiny many times before has compelled to do her bidding may find escape from a third term nomination impossible.

The impression is growing here that though the president himself made the circumstances, the circumstances in themselves may now in turn take the initiative and point him the way down which he will have almost no alternative but to go.

The schism which is threatening by the stand taken by William Jennings Bryan on the treaty of Versailles which, he insists must be ratified immediately in some form or other and not submitted to the country in an election, places Bryan flat-footed in one camp with President Wilson and as unmistakably in the other. And as Bryan is the natural and only logical leader of the immediate ratification group of the Democratic party, the president is equally designated as the chief of the faction which opposes immediate ratification.

Opposed as a matter of principle to the third term and opposing it because of tradition—besides being physically weakened by his illness brought on by overwork during his two terms in office—the president, it is said, if forced by circumstances to make the campaign may choose his running mate with the expressed purpose of withdrawing from office, if elected, leaving his vice president to become at once the head of the nation. This is one of the combinations discussed here among those who know the president's strongest personal desire to retire to private life and his equally intense feeling that he must do his duty as he sees it.

Unless the amazingly complex situation takes an unexpected turn clarifying itself, many insist the president will have to find some such way as the above out of the dilemma.

SUSPENSION OF FIVE SOCIALIST MEMBERS OF NEW YORK ASSEMBLY AROUSES A STORM OF PROTEST

New York, Jan. 9.—The suspension of five socialist members of the New York assembly is arousing a political tornado and a meeting of the state Republican committee was hastily convened here today to consider the situation. Speaker Sweet of the assembly, who came here from Albany for the meeting, declared that the judiciary committee which will decide the causes of the five socialists will be named Monday and will quickly proceed with its task. A storm of protest has arisen against the action of Speaker Sweet and his advisors in attempting to expel the socialists from the legislature. One of the latest came from Charles E. Hughes, former Republican nominee for president who contended that such action would do more to encourage the spirit of revolution and to strengthen the advocates of violence than any conceivable propaganda could accomplish.

Mr. Hughes declared that the suspension of the socialists who were not accused of any crime, is an action directed at the socialist party and is opposed to the fundamental principles of American government.

Mr. Hughes predicted that the suspension of the socialist assemblymen would greatly increase the membership of the socialist party.

The socialists plan to raise a fund of $200,000 to conduct a legal fight and a campaign propaganda in behalf of the five socialists assemblymen. Alderman Beckerman, a socialist, said that many contributions already had been received.

Mass meetings were held here today at which the five assemblymen delivered addresses.

In an interview assemblyman Claessens, one of the suspended legislators was reported to have said that the socialists were taking a vote on the question of affiliating themselves with the third international at Moscow.

COAL OPERATORS MEET IN CAPITOL

Washington, Jan. 10.—Bituminous coal operators were meeting here today in executive session in an attempt to define a policy which they will follow before the coal commission, appointed by President Wilson. There is a wide division of opinion among the operators. Some favor taking a course in opposition to the coal commission and refusing to recognize its power. More conservative operators, however, are endeavoring to secure a program whereby the operators will go before the commission with a complete case and fight for their contentions most vigorously.

U. S. LOSES THOUSANDS BY EFFORT TO FURNISH COAL

Chicago, Jan. 10.—The Government, through the railroad administration, stands to lose thousands of dollars on an immense amount of Eastern coal which was rushed here at great expense during the recent strike to prevent a paralysis of central western industries, it was learned here.

"We have been strung up by the people we have tried to help," said a railroad official. "That coal looked mighty good to consumers here when there wasn't any other. But now, with cheaper coal at hand, they can't use Eastern coal."

Thousands of carloads are being held by the railroads in the central regions.

SNOW AND ICE STILL HANDICAP ELECTRIC LINES

TELEPHONE COMPANIES HAVE WIRES NEARLY NORMAL BUT TRACTION LINES HIT.

Although telephone companies had gotten their lines into something near normal condition by Saturday, there were still delays in transportation facilities Saturday, due to the snow and ice storm of Thursday night.

Interurban cars were running from 15 to 20 minutes late, due to the ice on the wires, which prevent contact with the trolley and hinders the power. The railroad schedule was also still confused Saturday because of the storm.

While a heavy snow followed up the rain of Thursday here, in Cincinnati there was not a bit of snow, according to a report, although everything is covered with ice due to the rainfall.

LABOR TROUBLES IN SPAIN CONTINUE

Madrid, Jan. 10.—The country-wide disorders over labor troubles, were augmented today by a mutiny of the garrison at Saragosa. Thirteen soldiers were immediately arrested and court-martialed and two sentenced to death. All of the army officers stationed here and at Barcelona have been recalled from leave of absence. The premier states that he is determined to maintain order at any cost and oppose the syndicalists.

TREATY RATIFIED IN PARIS, SENATE STILL UNDECIDED

PEACE PACT STILL MOOT QUESTION IN AMERICAN LEGISLATION.

Issue Befogged By Varied Views

No Course of Action is Definitely Contemplated; Matter Still Open.

Paris, Jan. 10.—The allies and Germany are not officially at peace. The final ceremonies of the peace conference began shortly after four o'clock in the foreign office. Baron Von Lersner and Dr. Von Simson, heading the German delegation, signed the protocol fixing the amount of German reparation for the sinking of the interposed German fleet at Scapa Flow, after which the representatives of the allies signed as witnesses.

Then the plenipotentiaries adjourned to the clock hall where they filed the certificates of ratification of the treaty of Versailles.

The process-verbal was next signed and the treaty was in effect, putting formal end to the world conflict which began in 1914.

As the United States senate has not ratified the treaty Americans did not participate in the ceremonies.

Washington, Jan. 10.—While the treaty of peace was being formally ratified in Paris today it was still a moot question in the United States senate. With the issue befogged by the statement of President Wilson and views of W. J. Bryan, there was apparently no course of action definitely contemplated by the senate. Senator McHenry, who has been a leader in the efforts for compromise declared that he would continue on. Among the Democrats there was considerable confusion as to just what the president had intended in his statement and how far he was willing to go with even interpretive reservations. Senator Hitchcock, administration leader, asserted however that there were sufficient votes that could be held to the support of the president to insure any action he should advise.

The contest between Senator Hitchcock and Senator Underwood has been sharpened by the president's statement. Senator Underwood favors early action on the treaty and it was believed that this fact might swing some support to him from those democratic senators who are not keen about the president's position.

MINE OWNERS HAVE EXAGGERATED DEMAND CLAIM INSPECTORS

Columbus, O., Jan. 10.—That mine owners have exaggerated their demands is the claim made by inspectors sent out by the state utilities commission to investigate the alleged shortage of coal cars at the mines, it was announced today at the offices of the commission. Inspectors reported that, in many instances, when the mines were shut down, the railroads distributed the cars to other plants.

Members of the commission, however, say that a shortage exists, due to the failure of factories in the northwest to promptly unload coal cars.

PREDICTS ANNIHILATION OF KOLCHAK FORCES

Washington, Jan. 10.—Predicting the complete annihilation of the Kolchak forces in Siberia, denying that the German government is financing and furnishing officers to Bolshevik army, and expressing a willingness to tell the senate committee "all I know," Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, self styled bolshevik "ambassador" to the United States, turned up this afternoon after having been missing for two weeks. Martens announced that he will go before the senate committee on Monday and make a complete "expose" of the activities and "persecution" of the department of justice against him.

Columbus, O., Jan. 10.—At the annual meeting of the state board of agriculture with the Ohio fair boys here next Wednesday, it must be decided whether or not fairs will be justified in charging fifty cents admission in 1920.

Gov. Cox, Mayor Thomas, Chief Justice Nichols and E. V. Walborn, chief of the bureau of fair administration, will make addresses at the conference.

BRYAN DENIES SPLIT WITH THE PRESIDENT OVER PEACE TREATY; AT LOSS TO UNDERSTAND, HE SAYS

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Wm. Jennings Bryan, who arrived here today from Washington denied that he has "split" with President Wilson over the peace treaty issue. He described the issue as too important to allow personal contentions to creep in. Mr. Bryan, however, reiterated his demand, first made at the Jackson day dinner in Washington, that the treaty be ratified and signed without delay.

"I do not understand," said Mr. Bryan, "the attitude of newspapers which seek to drag the discussion of these great questions down to a personal level. I stated at Washington that I am not a candidate for president. It seems to me that these issues are big enough to be considered on their own merits by those interested in securing the best things for the country."

"There is no reason why the advocacy of a compromise by me should be interpreted as opposition to the president. The president is an official and his recommendations travel by their own weight, or, as they say of automobiles, by their own power, and not by political authority."

"The constitution gives the president the right to make recommendations to congress just as it empowers congress to pass laws and the president to veto them. The president and the senate are independent of each other and in a crisis like this the country needs the wisdom of both."

FIRE DESTROYS BARN KILLING VALUABLE STOCK

BLAZE FRIDAY NIGHT IN WRIGHT STRUCTURE DOES $2,500 DAMAGE.

Three horses and one cow were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the large barn belonging to Charles H. Wright at the corner of Columbus street and Lexington avenue, shortly before nine o'clock Friday night, involving a loss of between $2,000 and $2,500.

The fire which was of unknown origin had gained considerable headway when discovered, and although desperate efforts were made to save the stock, it was impossible to effect a rescue of the animals. A large quantity of hay, straw, feed, harness and farming tools were also consumed in the flames. It is understood that Wright had put two loads of hay in the barn several days before the conflagration. The horses burned to death included a match team of grays, valued highly.

It was impossible to save the building after the fire department had arrived, because the flames had gained too much headway before discovered. Part of the loss is covered by insurance.

NOTED PHYSICIAN OF CINCINNATI DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 10.—After a career of indefatigable activity in his chosen profession, culminating with a service of nearly a year and a half in the army, culminating at Camp Sherman, Major Christian R. Holmes one of the outstanding figures in the medical history of Cincinnati, died at Post Graduate Hospital in New York City at 4:45 o'clock yesterday morning.

His strenuous work during the war is said by Mayor Holmes's physicians to have contributed largely to the breakdown which produced his illness. The first news that the end had come, after 10 days during which Major Holmes's condition had been critical, was received in Cincinnati by Dr. Alfred Friedlander. Immediately after the announcement was made all classes in the Ohio-Miami Medical College, General Hospital and the Nursing school were closed.

When Major Holmes entered the hospital four months ago it was for rest and observation and to recuperate from a lowered physical condition which had resulted from hard work among soldiers at Camp Sherman.

Washington Has No Confirmation

State Department Admits Probability of Crisis in Germany; Report Awaited.

London, Jan. 10.—Up to 4 o'clock this afternoon neither the foreign office nor the war office had any word regarding the unconfirmed rumor from Brussels that a new revolution had been broken out in Germany and that a new revolution had overthrown. The war office, it was said, regarded the report with "grave suspicion."

At the foreign office it was stated that no information had been received.

London, Jan. 10.—According to Reuter dispatch from Brussels today a new revolution has broken out in Germany, and the socialist government headed by President Frederic Ebert, has been overthrown.

Travelers reaching Brussels from Germany were said by the Brussels correspondent of the Reuter agency to have brought unconfirmed reports that the anti-government socialists were in control and had proclaimed a general strike.

The strike movement was reported to have spread throughout the country not held by allied forces of occupation.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The state department and other government agencies here were without confirmation today of the reported revolution in Germany. Officials stated, however, that they would not be surprised if the reports were true. It was indicated that there has been information to warrant this country that a revolution had been declared in Germany.

How Frequently Do You ANSWER Classified Advertisements?

Do you draw upon the classified ads for SERVICE whenever the occasion warrants? When you are in need of office help do you carefully appraise the ads of those seeking positions and secure interviews with those who appear to be available for your work?

When you are open to accept a new position do you watch the calls for PEOPLE that appear in the classified, and RESPOND to some of those calls? When you are considering the purchase of a home do you study the real estate offerings and INVESTIGATE those which seem to square with your needs and ideas?

After all, classified advertising is worth to you only the service it renders to you. That service may be great or small, depending upon your alertness in finding opportunities. You may find in the classified either gold or dross, according to your ability to discern opportunities.

For the pleasure of her houseguests Mrs. R. R. Grieve and Miss Mary Bickett of Xenia, and Mrs. Ella Sennard, of Spring Valley, Mrs. William Sennard planned a very happy surprise Thursday evening at her home on East Church street.

The affair was given in the nature of a pot-luck supper, the guests assembling about five-thirty o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. B. Sharp. Referring to the Sennard home about six, the out-of-town guests were given a complete surprise.

CENTRAL HIGH LOSES IN FAST GAME TO CAPITOL

SOUTH HIGH FIVE NOSES OUT LOCALS BY 18 TO 13 SCORE

Coach Faires' first string men engaged in a stiff contest with South High of Columbus, Friday night at the Rink, finally being nosed out when their opponents staged a whirlwind comeback after the injection of several fresh men into the fray, which enabled them to win 18 to 13. The inability to make foul shots proved costly to the local team, as they only counted 3 out of 17 tries. In the first half Central quiet took the lead when Pillsbury dropped one in after a minute of play. They ran up their total to 9 in the first half and by close guarding held their opponents to 5 points.

In the second half the play started out just about as it had left off with the locals still having the best of it. About the middle of the half the South High coach sent in three fresh men and they turned the tide and scored enough points to give their team a victory.

LeSourd, Pillsbury and Knee played good games for Central while for South, Williams, and Schweinberger, who were sent in the last of the game were the main scorers.

The lineup:
Central 13 South 18
Riddell L. F. Williams
LeSourd R. F. Schlonsky
Pillsbury C. Cozad
Knee L. G. Huffman
Boxwell R. G. Castile
Substitutions—Bales for Riddell, Kolb for Cozad, Schweinberger for Schlonsky, Brashear for Castile, Field Goals—Riddell, LeSourd 2, Pillsbury, Boxwell, Williams 2, Cozad, Gastile, Schweinberger 2, Brashear, Kolb, Foul Goals—Riddell 2, Williams 2.

The second string team won its first game when they defeated the team from Ceasarcreek High 21 to 8. In the first half the game dragged for awhile with the Ceasarcreek lads having the better of the argument, but the second string came back strong and the score at the end of the half was 8 to 7.

In the second half the local team came back with a rush that swept their opponents off their feet, and ran up their score to 21, while the Ceasarcreek lads were unable to connect for a single point.

Gegner and Moore were the best performers for the locals, while Bales and Baynard were the mainstays of the Ceasarcreek squad.

The lineup:
Gegner L. F. Baynard
Hudson R. F. Van Ness
Moore C. Beals
Moore L. G. Faulkner
Hopping R. G. Faulkner
Field Goals—Hudson, Gegner 3, Moore 3, Hopping, Baynard, Beals 3, Foul Goals—Gegner 3, Hyman, Hopping.

ENTERTAINS TEAM

The basketball squad and students of Central High School entertained the members of the basketball team of South High, Columbus, at the Central High School building following the game at the Rink, Friday night.

There was dancing and hot Weiner sandwiches were served. The South High team after defeating the locals in a close game Friday night, stayed here all night and Saturday morning went to Dayton, where the team plays Steele High Saturday night.

JAMESTOWN HIGH WINS TWO GAMES

The Jamestown lads nosing out their opponents by the score of 31-23. The second team game between the two schools resulted in a victory for the Beaver outfit by the score of 20-10.

How Frequently Do You ANSWER Classified Advertisements?

Do you draw upon the classified ads for SERVICE whenever the occasion warrants?

When you are in need of office help do you carefully appraise the ads of those seeking positions and secure interviews with those who appear to be available for your work?

When you are open to accept a new position, do you watch the calls for PEOPLE that appear in the classified, and RESPOND to some of those calls?

When you are considering the purchase of a home do you study the real estate offerings and INVESTIGATE those which seem to square with your needs and ideas?

After all, classified advertising is worth to you only the service it renders to you. That service may be great or small, depending upon your alertness in finding opportunities. You may find in the classified either gold or dross, according to your ability to discern opportunities.

TRY THIS FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

IT WORKS LIKE MAGIC AND COSTS BUT LITTLE

If you want a cough medicine that is surely fine for coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchial affections, croup and throat irritations, get 3 oz. of Glando Pine (50 cts. worth) with full directions for preparing and you can make a full pint of excellent cough medicine. Glando Pine gets right at the cause of the cough. The first dose relieves, it opens the air cells and makes you breathe easy. Children love to take it. When prepared according to directions it will not separate as some of the inferior cough medicines do.

George Pollock, a painter and decorator, of Logansport, Ind., says, "I took a severe cold which settled all through my system. I had severe pains in my chest and lungs. My throat was swollen and sore. Glando Pine gave me relief almost instantly. I consider it very fine for coughs and colds."

Mrs. John Polter of 359 S. Williams St., Paulding, Ohio, said, "I neglected to doctor a cold which settled on my lungs. My cold grew worse until I coughed almost constantly, I began to spit blood. I lost in weight and looked so bad that people thought I had tuberculosis. I finally tried Glando Pine. The first bottle helped me. I continued its use until I was cured. I firmly believe that Glando Pine saved my life."

To avoid disappointment be sure you get Glando Pine. Once you have used it you will never want to be without it in your home.

REPORT FOR MONTH OF DECEMBER SHOWS GAIN IN SCHOLARSHIP AMONG CENTRAL HIGH PUPILS

The statistics for the December grades of Central High School students have been announced and the figures for the school show a gain of 9 in E's and a decrease of 7 in U's. This shows that the grades were on about the same level as the preceding month but 67.9 of the grades in December were G or above as compared to 60.6 per cent in November. This is a substantial gain and indicated that the people who have been receiving low grades are rapidly bettering them. With but three exceptions the percent of U's were lowered, the record of the Freshman boys being the most notable as they decreased their number three per cent. The Freshman girls who did not have a single U marked up against them last month took a slight drop and have 1.1 per cent. The girls and boys were about even in the decrease the percentage gained or lost being about equal. The Junior boys took a spurt and passed the Sophomores in respect to the number of U's this being the first time that they have not had a larger per cent of U's than any other group. The Freshman boys still retain the lead in having the smallest number of U's with the Seniors again trailing them.

With the exception of the Junior girls and the Sophomore boys each group succeeded in increasing the per cent of E's. The former lost almost 4 per cent and the latter only 2 per cent. The Freshman girls gained a little and retained possession of first place, while the Senior girls with a jump of 6 per cent advanced to second place.

In regard to the comparative standing of the classes, the Freshman boys still have the largest per cent of E's with the Seniors trailing in their wake with the Juniors and Sophomores in hot pursuit. The Freshman boys again have the lead in both E's and U's that they are responsible for and are holding the school back in this respect.

In regard to the girls, the Seniors have substantially raised their per cent of E's and also decreased their U's so that they now rank second in regard to the latter. The Freshman girls still hold first honors having the greatest per cent of E's and the smallest of U's. However they are hotly pressed by the Seniors for the largest number of E's and by the Sophomores for the smallest per cent of U's.

Distributing the grades in two groups with the E's and G's in one column and the F's and U's in the other, the Freshman as a class would have the greatest per cent in the better column, closely followed by the Seniors with the Sophomores and Juniors bringing up in the rear. The Sophomores succeeded in pulling out of the cellar position and passed it along to the Juniors.

As in the previous months the girls have maintained their superiority over the boys. In the Senior class

SLOW DEATH

Aches, pains, nervousness, difficulty in urinating, often mean serious disorders. The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles—

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

the boys gained 2.2 per cent as compared with the girls 6.5 per cent but their decrease in U's was practically the same only .1 per cent separating them. The Junior boys gained 3.5 per cent in E's and decreased their U's 1.4 per cent while the girls lost four per cent in E's and decreased their U's 4 per cent the boys having the better of it in this class. The Sophomore boys lost 2 per cent in E's and also increased their U's 1.2 per cent, a very poor showing, as compared to the girls gain of 2.2 per cent in E's and decrease of 1.4 per cent in U's. The Freshman boys increased their E's by 4.2 per cent cut down their U's by three per cent contrasted to the girls gain of 4.6 per cent in E's and increase of 1.1 per cent in U's. It may readily be seen that the Freshmen both boys and girls carried off the majority of the honors for this month.

The following table shows the complete tabulation of the grades for the month as prepared by the principal.

VETERANS OF MEXICAN WAR OF 1846 PAYS VISIT TO NEWARK

Newark, O., Jan. 10.—Blinded in one eye and leaning heavily on his cane, Daniel Darlington walked into the office of a Newark newspaper the other day and handed the editor a photograph and a few facts pertaining to his life. "I'm ninety-two and I'll be passing along one of these days. I thought you might want my picture to use after I'm gone," said Darlington.

The editor, gazing over the sheet in his hand, suddenly discovered that he was talking to one of the nation's few surviving veterans of the Mexican war of 1846, and one of the original "Forty-niners" in the mad rush to the gold fields of California and Alaska over seventy years ago.

Born in Newark, Darlington was born at Newark, N. J., October, 1827. He was 19 years old at the time of the Mexican war and served 17 months in Ohio's famous mounted volunteer regiment, under General Taylor. Upon his return he cast his first vote and has not missed voting at a presidential election since, although alternating his political support between the Republican and Democratic party candidates. A year later he heard of the discovery of gold in the west and sailed from New Orleans spending ninety days on the way before reaching California. He spent 14 years out west, returning and

NOBBY SUIT FOR THE WINTER TERM

New clothes are always in demand for the winter school term. Here is a smart brown duvetyne suit trimmed with opossum collar and cuffs which will be very practical for the new term. The skirt is straight and rather narrow and the jacket is rather long with an uneven peplum. The style is suitable for wear at any time and yet it is not too dressy for ordinary school wear.

But no—hardly was the paper out yesterday evening until a small boy brought the watch to her door. He had found it on the car track waiting for the train to run over it.

STATE CHARITIES TO LICENSE HOMES FOR BOARDING MINORS

Columbus, O., Jan. 10.—On July 15, 1919, a law went into effect which states that persons boarding children not related to them by blood or marriage, must be licensed by the Ohio Board of State Charities.

This law removes all boarding homes from the supervision of the State Department of Health and transfers the investigation and licensing to the Board of State Charities. It also makes the licensing necessary regardless of the ages of the children or the number being cared for.

Any person conducting such boarding home should apply at once to the Board of State Charities, Columbus, Ohio, for a license for which there is no fee.

Never Drink Water.

A large number of the smaller kinds of desert mammals never drink water. They live and thrive on dry seeds and scraps of vegetation in places where the heat and aridity are excessive without even touching their lips to water, and it has been found impossible to teach some of them to take water in captivity. Apparently they never know thirst or the delight of quenching it.

Aches and Pains of Rheumatism Sometimes Almost Unbearable.

There are weather conditions that make rheumatism worse. They are not the same in the cases of all persons. Some victims of this disease suffer more in dry warm weather than in moist cold weather, but all suffer more or less all the time.

The cause of rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints. Hence the blood must have attention for permanent results in the treatment of this disease.

REPORT FOR MONTH OF DECEMBER SHOWS GAIN IN SCHOLARSHIP AMONG CENTRAL HIGH PUPILS

The statistics for the December grades of Central High School students have been announced and the figures for the school show a gain of .9 in E's and a decrease of .7 in U's. This shows that the grades were on about the same level as the preceding month but 67.9 of the grades in December were G or above as compared to 66.9 per cent in November. This is a substantial gain and indicated that the people who have been receiving low grades are rapidly bettering them. With but three exceptions the per

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

the boys gained 2.2 per cent as compared with the girls 6.5 per cent but their decrease in U's was practically the same only .1 per cent separating them. The Junior boys gained 3.5 per cent in E's and decreased their U's 1.4 per cent while the girls lost four per cent in E's and decreased their U's 4 per cent the boys having the better of it in this class. The Sophomore boys lost 2 per cent in E's and also increased their U's 1.2 per cent, a very poor showing, as compared to the girls gain of 2.2 per cent in E's and decrease of 1.4 per cent in U's. The Freshman boys increased their E's by 4.2 per cent cut down their U's by three per cent contrasted to the girls gain of 4.6 per cent in E's and increase of 1.1 per cent in U's. It may readily be seen that the Freshmen both boys and girls carried off the majority of the honors for this month.

VETERANS OF MEXICAN WAR OF 1846 PAYS VISIT TO NEWARK

Newark, O., Jan. 10.—Blinded in one eye and leaning heavily on his cane, Daniel Darlington walked into the office of a Newark newspaper the other day and handed the editor a photograph and a few facts pertaining to his life. "I'm ninety-two and I'll be passing along one of these days. I thought you might want my picture to use after I'm gone," said Darlington.

The editor, gazing over the sheet in his hands, suddenly discovered that he was talking to one of the nation's few surviving veterans of the Mexican war of 1846, and one of the original "Forty-niners" in the mad rush to the gold fields of California and Alaska over seventy years ago.

Born in Newark, Darlington was born at Newark in October, 1827. He was 19 years old at the time of the Mexican war and served 17 months in Ohio's famous mounted volunteer regiment, under General Taylor. Upon his return he cast his first vote and has not missed voting at a presidential election since, although alternating his political support between the Republican and Democratic party candidates. A year later he heard of the discovery of gold in the west and sailed from New Orleans, spending ninety days on the water before reaching California. He spent 14 years out west, returning and serving nearly two years in the Civil War with a Maryland Regiment. The lure of the west still calling, Darlington then returned and spent 30 years there, investing in various mining projects and finally resuming his residence in Newark, with no need to worry over the future.

"I have lost my watch, and I don't suppose I'll ever see it again"—what a sad little girl this was who placed the following ad yesterday:

LOST—Wrist watch octagon shape, between Pennsylvania depot, Fair-ground road and High School. Call CH. 443 Red. Reward.

But no—hardly was the paper out yesterday evening until a small boy brought the watch to her door. He had found it on the car track waiting for the train to run over it.

As far as is known he is one of only four survivors of the Mexican war now living in Ohio. Darlington never has been married and lives alone in Newark.

OUR NATURAL GAS.

In his annual message in the year 1887 President Cleveland used the words: "It is a condition which confronts us, not a theory," which soon became an oft repeated phrase for similar conditions. And to the distress of millions of people in Ohio today we have the alarming fact revealed to us that "it is a condition which confronts us, not a theory" regarding the continued supply of natural gas. For the Ohio Fuel Supply Company gives advertising notice to the Xenia division of its consumers that "in the opinion of gas experts at least three-fourths of the original supply of natural gas is exhausted and it is plain that rigid economy must be practiced in its use if you are to continue to have the luxury of natural gas for any considerable time."

The notice goes on further to say: "If you will practice economy in its use you will thus postpone the day of artificial gas, costing three times as much." So, there you are, natural gas users. It is up to every one of us who use natural gas to take the advice of the company for our own interests. The question is how can we "practice economy" in the matter, as recommended by the company, especially in mid-winter and often with zero weather. When consumers of natural gas, for domestic purposes, are asked to conserve the use, it is little wonder that the consumer is dazed over the known fact that at the same time the company is selling natural gas in wholesale quantities to the manufacturer. He asks himself, why should I economize in order that some manufacturer may be benefited? It is believed that this question is uppermost in the mind when the subject of gas conservation is mentioned to nearly every domestic gas consumer.

The explanation is that in summer the domestic consumer's demands are so small that the producers find a surplus of gas on hand and must sell it. We quote from a late statement on this point: That a reasonable return cannot be made under the present prevailing price for natural gas for domestic consumption and at the same time eliminate the industrial consumer, is recognized by everyone connected with the business. In fact, that company, whether producing its own gas or buying from some operator, is extremely fortunate that can show any net earnings whatever after deducting operating and maintenance expense, taxes and depreciation, where its business is limited to domestic consumption. It is only, therefore, by disposing of its surplus gas to manufacturers during the summer months when the domestic demand is low that the company is able to earn an amount sufficient to make a reasonable return on its total investment.

Every so often, but not so very often, we hear of a million per day gas well. The newspapers tell the story far and wide. Companies that have some nice green and gold stock certificates to sell, shout about it in big red letters, clear across the full page advertisements. Success always has a good bunch of free, and sometimes well-paid advertisers.

But who tells about the dry holes? Who wants to shout out a duster?

It is difficult for us to get away from the old idea that all natural gas companies have to do is to drill a hole into the crust of the earth, let the gas flow forth, up to and through the meter—then render a bill to fit the pocketbook of the ultimate consumer.

Seeing is often more convincing than talk, so the Gas Magazine shows a photograph of the celebrated "deepest well in the world." It cost $150,000 to drill, going deeper and deeper, always hoping to strike gas. Not a foot of gas was secured, but the well cost the gas company $150,000. Figure up how many years it would take for your monthly gas bill to meet just this one item of expense!

It costs heaps of money to get natural gas. But now, coming to the subject of the saving of gas, by the domestic consumer, in his own interest, and at the suggestion of the company, how shall he do it? Some persons that we know of have done it by shutting off part of their house, warming only certain rooms. Many persons do it by shutting off the gas supply during the night—why not, it is more healthful to sleep in a fresh air atmosphere.

In the natural gas matter we of Xenia are better off, so far, than some other places. There are complaints of low pressure at Dayton and also at Columbus. At the latter city there have been several cases of near death from asphyxiation.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED—AND EARNED

By Jane Phelps.

A Modern Story of Home and Business.

CHAPTER 32.

After Mary went to the window and watched for Robert. I thought of his depression and wondered idly if Mary could be right—diary, and the writer of that story. I shrugged impatiently. Surely no one could expect a woman earning as much as I did to throw up her position and grub along on half the amount because a man wanted a home, or was tired of boarding house cooking. That was too childish.

I must have a long talk with Robert I decided. If he were ambitious and we saved—we had not yet saved much of anything—my clothes took the greater part of what I earned; we would have a home after a few years. But if he lost his ambition, let the other men in the office outstrip him, we never could have a home—not a decent one.

I had just arrived at this point in my cogitations when I saw him swinging up the street. I breathed a sigh of relief as I saw how briskly he walked. He had not been drinking.

"Still up? Why didn't you go to bed?" he asked when he came in. I had seated myself with the magazine. Someway I did not want him to catch me watching for him.

"Mary has been down. She read aloud to me."

"I'm glad you weren't alone," he kissed me. "I called the shop, but they said you had left. I met Marion and she had two tickets for John McCormack's concert tonight. Her brother was going with her, but he had to go back to the school for some reason, and she had no escort. She offered to give me the tickets. That was when I called you up. When I couldn't get you, I proposed we go together. Then she insisted I go home to dinner with her—you see I never know when you will get home," he added apologetically, "so I hurried home here and changed then went up there to dinner. A dandy one two. I wished you could have been with me. Everything tasted so good."

"Did you have a nice time at the concert?"

"Wonderful! What a voice that man has. It's great to be able to give so many people pleasure isn't it? He's so generous with his encores also. You must go and hear him the next time," he sings. Robert was passionately fond of music. I used to tell him he should have been a musician he loved it so.

"We'll go together next time," I replied quietly, a queer little jealous feeling tugging at my heart. He had enjoyed himself so thoroughly and with someone else.

"You mean we will if we can afford it. The tickets are pretty expensive. Marion's were sent her by a friend of her father. Bully seats too, right down front on the aisle."

"Well don't you think we better go to bed?"

"I expect we had. I'm not a bit sleepy," he commenced to hum an air he had heard.

"You must get your rest. You can't work if you do not, and I don't want them to put any more of the clerks over you! I had not meant to say anything of the sort, it just slipped out. When I saw him flush I felt terribly sorry, and changed the subject, rather tried to."

"They advance the one they think most capable—who gets them the most business," he returned moodily; the happy light gone from his eyes; his voice hard and cold.

"Well you must be that one," I replied, then hurried him to bed so that he could not talk of anything disagreeable. But long after he slept I thought of him and Marion Hovey enjoying the concert together while I sat at home and wondered if Robert were beginning to lose his love for me.

"He wouldn't have done it when we were first married," I whispered, "and

I am just the same as I was then." That he expected me to be any different as a wife I did not imagine. He loved me before we were married; why should his love change afterward when conditions were just the same?

Thin, Nervous Folks Should Try Drinking Water Systoxem.

AFTER BREAKFAST, DINNER AND SUPPER FOR TWO WEEKS

Dr. Eugene M. Brown Formerly Clinical Instructor Boston University School of Medicine

In commenting on the various so-called "tonics" and preparations advertised for increasing strength, weight, nerve-force and power of endurance, said:—"Men and women grow old before the time intended by Nature, simply because their blood lacks the power to build nerve-force, tissue, strength and endurance. Many tonics and blood purifiers have been used to overcome this deficiency, but this method of taking Systoxem and ordinary drinking water after meals cannot help but appeal to the physician who has watched its up-building influence."

Thin, nervous, run-down men and women, seldom figure out the cause of their weakness and delicate condition, which is usually due to thin blood and hungry nerves. As a rule they do not get the necessary chemical substances for increasing red blood corpuscles and nerve-force from the modern foods they eat.

The reason why ordinary drinking water and Systoxem is so widely advocated is because this combination helps supply the blood and nerves with the substances so necessary to active metabolism—that unseen, wonderful process in the human body that changes the food we eat into bodily vigor and energy.

If you are thin, nervous or run-down, you owe it to yourself to try this simple method. Simply take two 5-grain Systoxem tablets and a glass of ordinary drinking water after meals, three times a day for about two weeks. Then weigh yourself and test your strength and endurance by walking and see what you have gained.

The city drinking water here is considered pure and good for this purpose, and Systoxem is dispensed by Sayre & Hemphill, Sohn's Drug Store and other good druggists.

OUR NATURAL GAS.

In his annual message in the year 1887 President Cleveland used the words: "It is a condition which confronts us, not a theory," which soon became an oft repeated phrase for similar conditions. And to the distress of millions of people in Ohio today we have the alarming fact revealed to us that "it is a condition which confronts us, not a theory" regarding the continued supply of natural gas. For the Ohio Fuel Supply Company gives advertising notice to the Xenia division of its consumers that "in the opinion of gas experts at least three-fourths of the original supply of natural gas is exhausted and it is plain that rigid economy must be practiced in its use if you are to continue to have the luxury of natural gas for any considerable time."

The notice goes on further to say: "If you will practice economy in its use you will thus postpone the day of artificial gas, costing three times as much." So, there you are, natural gas users. It is up to every one of us who use natural gas to take the advice of the company for our own interests. The question is how can we "practice economy" in the matter, as recommended by the company, especially in mid-winter and often with zero weather. When consumers of natural gas, for domestic purposes, are asked to conserve the use, it is little wonder that the consumer is dazed over the known fact that at the same time the company is selling natural gas in wholesale quantities to the manufacturer. He asks himself, why should I economize in order that some manufacturer may be benefitted? It is believed that this question is uppermost in the mind when the subject of gas conservation is mentioned to nearly every domestic gas consumer.

The explanation is that in summer the domestic consumer's demands are so small that the producers find a surplus of gas on hand and must sell it. We quote from a late statement on this point: That a reasonable return cannot be made under the present prevailing price for natural gas for domestic consumption and at the same time eliminate the industrial consumer, is recognized by everyone connected with the business. In fact, that company, whether producing its own gas or buying from some operator, is extremely fortunate that can show any net earnings whatever after deducting operating and maintenance expense, taxes and depreciation, where its business is limited to domestic consumption.

It is only, therefore, by disposing of its surplus gas to manufacturers during the summer months when the domestic demand is low that the company is able to earn an amount sufficient to make a reasonable return on its total investment.

Every so often, but not so very often, we hear of a million per day gas well. The newspapers tell the story far and wide. Companies that have some nice green and gold stock certificates to sell, shout about it in big red letters, clear across the full page advertisements. Success always has a good bunch of free, and sometimes well-paid advertisers.

But who tells about the dry holes? Who wants to shout out a duster?

It is difficult for us to get away from the old idea that all natural gas companies have to do is to drill a hole into the crust of the earth, let the gas flow forth, up to and through the meter—then render a bill to fit the pocketbook of the ultimate consumer.

Seeing is often more convincing than talk, so the Gas Magazine shows a photograph of the celebrated "deepest well in the world." It cost $150,000 to drill, going deeper and deeper, always hoping to strike gas. Not a foot of gas was secured, but the well cost the gas company $150,000. Figure up how many years it would take for your monthly gas bill to meet just this one item of expense!

It costs heaps of money to get natural gas. But now, coming to the subject of the saving of gas, by the domestic consumer, in his own interest, and at the suggestion of the company, how shall he do it? Some persons that we know of have done it by shutting off part of their house, warming only certain rooms. Many persons do it by shutting off the gas supply during the night—why not, it is more healthful to sleep in a fresh air atmosphere.

In the natural gas matter we of Xenia are better off, so far, than some other places. There are complaints of low pressure at Dayton and also at Columbus. At the latter city there have been several cases of near death from asphyxiation.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED—AND EARNED

By Jane Phelps.

A Modern Story of Home and Business.

CHAPTER 32.

After Mary went I stood by the window and watched for Robert. I thought of his depression and wondered idly if Mary could be right—Mary, and the writer of that story. I shrugged impatiently. Surely no one could expect a woman earning as much as I did to throw up her position and grub along on half the amount because a man wanted a home, or was tired of boarding house cooking. That was too child ish.

I must have a long talk with Robert I decided. If he were ambitious and we saved—we had not yet saved much of anything—my clothes took the greater part of what I earned; we would have a home after a few years. But if he lost his ambition, let the other men in the office outstrip him, we never could have a home—not a decent one.

I had just arrived at this point in my cogitations when I saw him swinging up the street. I breathed a sigh of relief as I saw how briskly he walked. He had not been drinking. "Still up?" he asked when he came in. "I had seated myself with the magazine. Someway I did not want him to catch me watching for him."

"Mary has been down. She read aloud to me."

"I'm glad you weren't alone," he kissed me. "I called the shop, but they said you had left. I met Marion and she had two tickets for John McCormack's concert tonight. Her brother was going with her, but he had to go back to the school for some reason, and she had no escort. She offered to give me the tickets. That was when I called you up. When I couldn't get you, I proposed we go together. Then she insisted I go home to dinner with her—you see I never know when you will get home," he added apologetically. "So I hurried home here and changed then went up there to dinner. A dandy one two. I wished you could have been with me. Everything tasted so good."

"Did you have a nice time at the concert?"

"Wonderful! What a voice that man has. It's great to be able to give so many people pleasure isn't it? He's so generous with his encores also. You must go and hear him the next time he sings." Robert was passionately fond of music. I used to tell him he should have been a musician he loved it so.

"We'll go together next time," I replied quietly, a queer little jealous feeling tugging at my heart. He had enjoyed himself so thoroughly and with someone else.

"You mean we will if we can afford it. The tickets are pretty expensive. Marion's were sent her by a friend of her father. Bully seats too, right down front on the aisle."

"Well don't you think we better go to bed?"

"I expect we had. I'm not a bit sleepy," he commenced to hum an air he had heard.

"You must get your rest. You can't work if you do not, and I don't want them to put any more of the clerks over you. I had not meant to say anything of the sort, it just slipped out. When I saw him flush I felt terribly sorry, and changed the subject, rather tried to."

"They advance the one they think most capable—who gets them the most business," he returned moodily; the happy light gone from his eyes; his voice hard and cold.

"Well you must be that one," I replied, then hurried him to bed so that he could not talk of anything disagreeable. But long after he slept I thought of him and Marion Hovey enjoying the concert together while I sat at home and wondered if Robert were beginning to lose his love for me.

"He wouldn't have done it when we were first married," I whispered, "and

I am just the same as I was then." That he expected me to be any different as a wife I did not imagine. He loved me before we were married; why should his love change afterward when conditions were just the same?

Thin, Nervous Folks Should Try Ddinking Water Systoxem.

AFTER BREAKFAST, DINNER AND SUPPER FOR TWO WEEKS

Dr. Eugene M. Brown Formerly Clinical Instructor Boston University School of Medicine

In commenting on the various so-called "tonics" and preparations advertised for increasing strength, weight, nerve-force and power of endurance, said: "Men and women grow old before the time intended by Nature, simply because their blood lacks the power to build nerve-force, tissue, strength and endurance. Many tonics and blood purifiers have been used to overcome this deficiency, but the method of taking Systoxem and ordinary drinking water after meals cannot help but appeal to the physician who has watched its up-building influence."

Thin, nervous, run-down men and women, seldom figure out the cause of their weakness and delicate condition, which is usually due to thin blood and hungry nerves. As a rule they do not get the necessary chemical substances for increasing red blood corpuscles and nerve-force from the modern foods they eat.

The reason why ordinary drinking water and Systoxem is so widely advocated is because this combination helps supply the blood and nerves with the substances so necessary to active metabolism—that unseen, wonderful process in the human body that changes the food we eat into bodily vigor and energy.

If you are thin, nervous or run-down, you owe it to yourself to try this simple method. Simply take two 5-grain Systoxem tablets and a glass of ordinary drinking water after meals, three times a day for about two weeks. Then weigh yourself and test your strength and endurance by walking and see what you have gained.

The city drinking water here is considered pure and good for this purpose, and Systoxem is dispensed by Sayre & Hemphill, Sole's Drug Store and other good druggists.

DISCLOSURES ON PREVALENCE OF TUBERCULOSIS IN THIS DISTRICT SHOW NEED OF NEW HOSPITAL

Startling figures regarding the prevalence of tuberculosis in this section and the necessity of spending $100,000 on an addition to the District Tuberculosis Hospital, near Springfield, were points brought out by Dr. John R. McDowell, director of hygiene, and H. J. Southmayd, chief of the division of hospitals of the state health department, before the trustees of the inter-county institution at a meeting at the hospital, Wednesday.

Dr. R. H. Grube, representing Xenia on the board of trustees of the institution, and a personal friend of Dr. McDowell, who was formerly health officer at Springfield, was present at the meeting. The trustees were urged to take up the matter with the commissioners of their various counties in an effort to have immediate steps taken to care for more patients at the hospital.

Amazing figures of the death rate from tuberculosis were presented by Dr. McDowell, showing that in the past nine years there have been 4 deaths annually in Greene county from this dread disease, 99 in Clark county, 34 in Champaign county and 25 in Madison county, an annual average of 205 for the district which maintains the institution.

The state health officers recommended that immediate steps be taken to at least double the present patient capacity and recommended an addition to cost approximately $100,000. In presenting their figures they showed that on the four counties which maintain the hospital, there are now about 1,850 cases of "active" tuberculosis.

They declared that complete protection of the public would demand the immediate hospitalization of each of these cases, and explained that in addition to the 1,850 "active" cases there are probably 2,000 incipient cases in the district.

As an immediate step they recommended the erection of a modern addition to care for at least sixty additional patients. This would raise the capacity of the Springfield hospital to 150 patients, and would temporarily meet the demand for hospital accommodations. They asserted, however, that within a few years the public would demand hospital accommodations for all tuberculosis people.

"A tuberculosis patient outside a hospital is a menace to the health of the community," Dr. McDowell asserted. "Further, a large number of lives could be saved every year if adequate hospital accommodations could be afforded."

In speaking of the necessity of additional hospital facilities, Dr. McDowell said: "This is the only district in the state where an attempt was made to convert a dwelling into a tuberculosis sanitarium, and experience has shown that it cannot be done successfully. The present building"—which is the old Kinane home—"could be converted into an administration building and laboratory. The district needs immediately a new hospital building with adequate power and laundry building."

Dr. McDowell highly commended the work of the superintendent, Dr. R. R. Richison, of Yellow Springs. "He has done wonders with the facilities he has," he declared. "He has proven that even the present antiquated hospital plant is a splendid investment for the counties participating."

The demands on the hospital have become so great within recent months the porches have been enclosed to provide additional bed capacity. By this temporary expedient the capacity has been nearly doubled, but the waiting list is always large."

C. OF C. LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN TO HELP MEMBERS

ORGANIZATION OF RETAIL AFFAIRS COMMITTEE HAS BEEN STARTED.

The Retail Affairs Committee is the latest committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce in its campaign of service to its membership.

The personnel of the new committee is as follows: Chairman, A. Moser, vice chairman; C. L. Jobe, Elbert L. Babb, H. L. Sayre, J. Walker Gibney, George I. Graham, James D. Adair, Lester Stiles, Charles Kelble, F. W. Chew and R. H. Kingsbury. One of the first functions of the Retail Affairs Committee is the curbing of the multitude of unworthy advertising appeals that present themselves to the business men of this city. Solicitations of an illegitimate character, charity donations not of direct benefit to the people of this community, and advertising in programs, folders and other sources, that is generally sold on its charity appeal will come under the head of this function of the new committee. A subsidiary committee, composed of three members picked from the Retail Affairs Committee will have this directly in charge; and this function will be part of the service rendered by the members of the Chamber of Commerce.

MUST HAVE ENDORSEMENT. Under the new plan, solicitors wishing to sell advertising in a project of this nature will have to have the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce before making an appeal of any of its business members. Because the Chamber of Commerce endorses the advertising is no reason why the merchants have to buy it but it is merely a protection to them against the myriads of worthless schemes.

Cards have been printed and will be mailed to merchants to hang up in their places of business, stating that they are members of the Chamber and advertising solicitors will have to have the endorsement of that body. If the Chamber endorses the project, the solicitors will be given cards to show that they are legally soliciting. Any merchant being solicited for any cause other than a national charity or established local charity of direct benefit to the city, should ask to see the solicitor's endorsement card. It is estimated that this service will many times over pay the membership fee in the Chamber of Commerce.

Another function of the Retail Affairs Committee to be taken up soon will be the question of lighting for Xenia city. Many strangers here have said that Xenia is the poorest lighted city in the state. The committee is considering a plan for single lighted boulevard lights for the business district.

Good lights are an excellent advertising medium for the merchant. Secretary L. C. Tineley of the Chamber of Commerce has taken up the matter of cost with the general manager of the Dayton Power and Light Company and the committee will get together soon to solve this problem.

WILL AID CENSUS ENUMERATORS IN LOCATING PEOPLE

Because many of the government census enumerators call frequently at residences to find that there is nobody home, the Chamber of Commerce has instituted a temporary census bureau by which people who have not been called upon can be listed.

In many cases where the census taker can not find anybody at home the names of people in the house will not be listed, and if there are many of these, the loss of the population total of Xenia would be large.

By the institution of the Chamber of Commerce Census Bureau, people who know that they were absent from home when the enumerator called, or who have been out of town, can call the Chamber of Commerce, Bell 46-R or Citizens 239, and have their names registered. These names will then be turned over to Postmaster Rice by Secretary Tingley and they will be listed in order to get them on the general total for this city.

The object of the bureau is to see that this city gets credit for all the people that are really living here.

PEACE PROGRAM OF RED CROSS IS EXPLAINED HERE

DR. S. E. BREWSTER TELLS OF ATTEMPTS TO PREVENT DISEASE

Dr. S. E. Brewster, representative of the Bureau of Administration of the Lake Division of the American Red Cross, addressed chapter members and local Red Cross workers in the administrative offices of the Greene county chapter Friday afternoon.

Dr. Brewster will conclude his four days' visit in Xenia Sunday night when he will deliver an address at the First Methodist church.

The peace time program of the Red Cross is the general theme on which Dr. Brewster is talking. He said today, "During the war we lost soldiers at the rate of two and one-half to every 100. During the same time we buried babies at the rate of twelve and one-half to every 100. We are robbing the cradles to populate the cities of the dead. There are 500,000 cases of tuberculosis needing constant care. Last year in Ohio alone, 11,708 babies under one year of age died. During 1918 out of nearly 6,000,000 soldiers, only twenty-three died of typhoid fever. During the same period in the civilian population, we buried 200,000 victims of typhoid.

"Typhoid fever is not a disease, it is a disgrace. 'Last year,' said Dr. Brewster, '89 per cent of the major operations upon female organs, were performed because of infection from venereal disease.'

"The Red Cross has for its peace time program the prevention of these diseases. In this work it will require the co-operation of every man and woman in every community in every state in the union."

ADVERTISING IS BUSINESS NEWS

In order to keep in constant touch with the events of every day, it is necessary to read the newspapers. It is just as essential that the advertisements of merchants to read for they carry an important message also.

Modern newspaper advertising is the greatest and most successful method of advertising in the world. Its effectiveness is unsurpassed and the merchant's stories as given through the papers literally crackle with live news of the business world.

Reading advertisements not only keep the public in touch with the prices of commodities etc., but it gives the advantage to learn where some particular thing, particularly desired may be secured, perhaps at a special price. Advertiser sales should be read as a daily news feature. Frequently some merchant secures stocks of goods at a surprisingly low figure and he offers this to the Xenia patrons and the public at a great saving. He has no other way of reaching the purchaser than through the newspaper and for this reason it is necessary that his message each day be read.

Make the reading of advertisements in the Republican and the Gazette a daily duty. You will be satisfied if you do and you will be certain to profit.

Merchants' messages through the medium of advertising are presented tersely and in an interesting manner in Xenia. They are to be relied upon. YOU CAN TRUST YOUR HOME MERCHANTS.

WILL AID CENSUS ENUMERATORS IN LOCATING PEOPLE

Because many of the government census enumerators call frequently at residences to find that there is nobody home, the Chamber of Commerce has instituted a temporary census bureau by which people who have not been called upon can be listed.

In many cases where the census taker can not find anybody at home the names of people in the house will not be listed, and if there are many of these, the loss of the population total of Xenia would be large.

By the institution of the Chamber of Commerce Census Bureau, people who know that they were absent from home when the enumerator called, or who have been out of town, can call the Chamber of Commerce, Bell 46-R or Citizens 239, and have their names registered. These names will then be turned over to Postmaster Rice by Secretary Tingley and they will be listed in order to get them on the general total for this city.

The object of the bureau is to see that this city gets credit for all the people that are really living here.

NIGHT SCHOOL OF COMMERCE IS NOW ORGANIZED

COMPLETE CURRICULUM OF COMMERCIAL SUBJECTS DECIDED UPON

Literature concerning the new night school to be conducted in commercial branches, at Central High School, has been sent out by Miss Mae Fishburn, head of the High School Commercial Department.

The school will be known as the Night School of Commerce, and is open to anyone who cares to afford themselves of a commercial training and who has had a common school education. A complete curriculum of commercial subjects, divided into two courses will be offered. In the stenographic course will be included typing, stenography, commercial English and spelling. In the bookkeeping course will be bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic and spelling.

The school will hold two sessions a week at 7 o'clock on Monday and Thursday evenings. It will continue through five months, making a total of forty sessions, and will include thorough training in all subjects.

The work has been outlined and planned with the intention of making it equivalent to the same courses offered by the best business colleges of the country, and the work done by the night school students will receive full credit at any of the best business colleges.

The Board of Education has permitted the use of the equipment of the Commercial Department of Central High School, but to defray expenses a tuition fee of $25 will be charged, payable in monthly installments, if so desired. Those who want to take any part of a course may do so at a cost based on the time of instruction.

The registration of students will be made next Monday evening at 7 o'clock, in the Library of Central High School.

SCHOOL TEACHERS GIVE PRESENT TO BOARD HEAD

PRESENT B. SCHLESINGER WITH READING LAMP UPON RETIRING.

In appreciation of his services to the Xenia Public schools during 39 years which he spent as a member of the board of Education, from which he recently retired, B. Schlesinger was made the present of a handsome electric reading lamp by the teachers of the public schools Thursday.

The lamp was sent to the Schlesinger home and was a complete surprise to Mr. Schlesinger. Accompanying the lamp was a letter signed "The Teachers of Xenia." The letter follows:

"Our Dear Mr. Schlesinger: "Your service to the cause of education in our city, so long accepted as a matter of course, has been appreciated more than you realize.

"We congratulate you upon the confidence of your fellow citizens who have for all these years trusted to you the most important institution of the community--an institution connected directly or indirectly with every one. We congratulate you upon your relations with colleagues who have valued the wisdom and justice of your counsel when grave problems were to be solved.

"Seldom is it given to one to enjoy the fruition of his labors for the public good, to see measures he has inaugurated or supported become an integral part of individual and civic life, to see a generation of children whose welfare he has devoted time and thought, develop into loyal citizens, honoring places of responsibility and power.

"We, the teachers of Xenia Public schools, recognize you as a friend of our profession and send you this small gift as an expression of our regard; we hope that it may radiate our happy memories and kindly hopes and that you may spend hours of enjoyment beside it.

"TEACHERS OF XENIA."

Mr. Schlesinger was elected to the board for the first time in April 1881, and served continuously until this year. His associates on the first board were H. H. Eayay, A. M. Stark, Tobias Dress, Rev. Shields and J. B. Monroe, all of whom have passed on.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE MEETS ASHLAND SATURDAY NIGHT

on the Alford Gym court at Cedarville, Saturday night, in the last home game before the Greene County outfit starts on its trip next Wednesday.

Paul Turnbull, who has been coaching the Cedarville lads, has been unable to give his attention to the mentorship of the five, and as yet the Cedarville lads have no coach. However, they are coming along in much better shape than during the early part of the season, and hope to annex a victory when they meet Ashland in the initial clash of these two teams Saturday night.

The return game with Ashland will be played there Wednesday night, the first on the trip to be taken by Cedarville. Thursday night Cedarville meets Defiance, Friday night plays Bluffton, and Saturday night plays at Findlay.

The team will then rest up for the first county-clash of the season with Antioch, which will be staged at Cedarville, Saturday, January 24.

POLICE UNCOVER BRUTAL MURDER IN ARREST OF MAN AND HIS WIFE

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 9.—With the finding of the mutilated body of Edward J. Knep, 21, and the arrest of James L. O'Dell, 21, ex-service man and the latter's wife, Pearl O'Dell, 18, this city is aroused over one of the most brutal murders in its history.

Knep was taken from the Gleason works, where he is employed on Wednesday night by O'Dell, who posed as a detective and was driven in a taxi to the junction of the Scottsville and Mosquito point roads, several miles southwest of here, and then escorted on foot to the point where he was murdered. He was handcuffed to a tree by O'Dell, according to the latter's confession to the authorities and then struck in the face by a heavy file by Mrs.

O'Dell until he was unconscious. He was then released and his body rolled down an embankment and concealed under a culvert where it was found yesterday. After placing the victim under the culvert, O'Dell returned to the spot and discovering that Knep had recovered consciousness, he struck him with a large stick, his wife at the same time again striking Knep with the file.

The arrest of the young man and woman followed a statement made at the police station last night by George B. Arnold, stepfather of O'Dell and after O'Dell and his wife had been identified by two taxi drivers as the couple who rode with Knep from the Gleason works to Scottsville and Mosquito point roads, a charge of murder in the first de-

The Music of the Ballet Russe

Warm, colorful music from the Orient—the strange melodies of the wild tribes from the Steppes of Russia—this is the music of the Russian Ballet which took the country by storm.

Now you can hear it at home. The Brunswick plays all records of ballet music, regardless of make. It brings out all the rich tones, the delicate harmonies, and the fiery vigor of the original.

The Brunswick

If you are a music-lover, you should not miss dropping in to hear this master-instrument. The Brunswick Method of Reproduction will astonish you by its advance over old methods. It increases the worth of any record, because it plays them in a new way.

The Ultram—a simple invention—enables you to play any record. A turn of the hand presents the correct needle and diaphragm, no matter what make, and the Brunswick Amplifier eliminates harsh, metallic tones, hitherto so objectionable. Ask to have these two great features explained to you.

Home Building Show.
The home building show will be extremely interesting. Besides the model homes to be exhibited there will be also model city plans, models of parks, and other landscape gardening, interior decorating and industries allied to the home.

Dayton members of the American Institute of Architects are making a generous offer, in preparing plans for model homes to cost between $3000 and $8000, which are to be given free to prospective home builders who visit the exhibit.

This is being done in an effort to encourage the "own your home" idea.

Another interesting feature in connection with the lumber dealers' convention will be the inter-city Manual Training School contest, in for the accountants of the Western Lumber Co.

Paul, the ten month old child of Mr. and Mrs. Elam Wright, died Wednesday from pneumonia. Burial at Clifton, Friday afternoon.

Belief Is Everything.
Look at history and it becomes but the thoughts of men come to fact. All facts, all events, all history are the realization of thoughts in the minds of men. It is not a question whether or not faith affects matters, but the question is whether in the long run anything else affects them. As the race believes, so the world is.—Exchange.

which various schools will compete for the first prize of $500, for the best model house submitted. The three Dayton schools, Stivers, Steele and Parker, are now engaged in a contest among themselves, the winner of which will be entered in the convention exhibit to compete for the $500 prize. Other manual training schools to take part are from Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Canton, Akron and Youngstown.

Prizes for Photographs.
One hundred photographs of the best and worst homes in Dayton will be exhibited at the show, and prizes amounting to $100 will be distributed to the persons correctly guessing the location of the greatest number of the originals of the photographs.

The evening of January 22, at the close of the convention a special train will bear 125 members of the association and their wives on an excursion to the pines and cypress mills of the south. The party will make its first stop at St. Louis and spend the day there. Passing thru Arkansas it will stop at two short leaf yellow pine mills, and from there go to Houston, Texas and Galveston, and thence to New Orleans, where three days will be spent. The party will entertain enroute, at several places, but at its stops the train will be used as a hotel by the excursionists. The special train will consist of 13 cars, four of which are to be compartment cars and the rest Pullmans.

Mr. Torrence does not expect to accompany the party on this trip, but it is possible that Xenia will be represented among the lumbermen who will take part in the excursion.

The Music of the Ballet Russe

Warm, colorful music from the Orient—the strange melodies of the wild tribes from the Steppes of Russia—this is the music of the Russian Ballet which took the country by storm.

Now you can hear it at home. The Brunswick plays all records of ballet music, regardless of make. It brings out all the rich tones, the delicate harmonies, and the fiery vigor of the original.

The Brunswick

If you are a music-lover, you should not miss dropping in to hear this master-instrument. The Brunswick Method of Reproduction will astonish you by its advance over old methods. It increases the worth of any record, because it plays them in a new way.

The Ultrona—a simple invention—enables you to play any record. A turn of the hand presents the correct needle and diaphragm, no matter what make, and the Brunswick Amplifier eliminates harsh, metallic tones, hitherto so objectionable. Ask to have these two great features explained to you.
